Attorneys Address Rally Of Democrats

Harold B. Rudisill, Esq., of Hanover, and W. Clarence Sheely, Esq., of Gettysburg, were the principal speakers at a democratic rally at St. Vincent's hall, Midway, Wednesday evening. One hundred and fifty persons attended the rally at which Charles H. Richter, of Berwick township, presided.

Mr. Rudisill discussed the advantages of organization and Mr. Sheely talked on the Adams county candidates and the necessity for getting out the vote next Tuesday. F. X. Colgan and John C. Bream, candidates for associate judge, and Carl W. Kane, treasurer candidate, also spoke.

This evening a rally for democrats in the eastern section of the county will be held at the firemen's hall in Abbottstown, with Frank Wetzel, of Carlisle, as the speaker.

FOUR ACCIDENT VICTIMS GAIN

Hunters. Wounded On Opening Day Of Small Game Season. Improving.

The four victims of hunting accidents in Adams county on the opening day of the small game season, Wednesday, today were reported doing nicely.

Two of those wounded, L. C. Pittenturf, York Springs funeral director, and George Clapsaddle, 13 Gettysburg R. 1, were admitted to the Warner hospital, the former having received a load of shot in his left arm and the latter having accidentally shot off the little toe on his left foot.

John Becker, of Menallen township, had a finger on his left hand badly injured by shot from his own gun which was accidentally discharged when he fell, and Earl Reinecker, Hanover street, a Gettysburg battlefield guide, was wounded in the face by shot from his father's gun.

From Pottsdam came a report that the Rev. Thomas H. Matterness, pastor of Brownback's Reformed church, near that town, and formerly pastor of a charge in Littlestown, was struck in the face by stray shot, Wednesday, while driving to a funeral. His injuries are not serious. The Rev. Mr. Matterness formerly was pastor of St. James' St. Luke's and St. Mark's Reformed churches, near Littlestown.

SPORT CHIEFS WILL DINE HERE

Representatives Of Six High Schools Guests Of Local School.

A meeting of the representatives of the six high schools composing the Southern Pennsylvania athletic conference will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Blue Parrot tea room.

Prof. Guile W. Lefever, president of the circuit, will preside.

Hanover high, newest addition to the league, will be represented as will the veteran members, Chambersburg, Shippensburg, Mechanicsburg, Carlisle and Gettysburg. Hanover will participate in the conference basketball schedule this year and will engage in its first league football games in 1934.

The league moguls will outline plans for the coming basketball season, consider several protests and complete plans for the 1934 football season.

Rabbits Chief Item On Table In Local Homes

Rabbits, fried, baked, stewed and in potpie, were the piece de resistance in hundreds of Gettysburg and Adams county homes today, following the opening of the small game season, Wednesday.

Rabbit is considered a delicacy by many people and with most hunters begging some bunnies on the opening day no one who likes rabbit need be without one or two today.

Even the prisoners at the Adams county jail enjoyed fried rabbit for dinner today through the prowess of Sheriff John C. Wible. Sheriff Wible bagged five cottontails, Wednesday, and today he served them to the sixteen prisoners.

KILLS WILD TURKEY
Raymond Pepple, Orrtanna, shot a ten-pound wild turkey in Fulton county Wednesday afternoon. Two shots were required to bring the bird down. Hunting with Mr. Pepple were H. B. Saum and Glyde Lauer, also of Orrtanna.

GIRLS ARRANGE NOVEL FEATURE

"Century Of Progress" Exhibition Will Be Presented November 9, 10, 11.

Preparations are being made to hold a "Century Of Progress" exhibition at the Y. W. C. A. building.

The undertaking is being sponsored by the Home-craft club, assisted by the Business and Professional women's club, the Annie Danner club and the Adult club of York Springs.

The exhibition will include modern dining and bedroom suites made by the Gettysburg and Reuser Furniture companies, shown in contrast with rooms furnished with antique furniture loaned by people living in various parts of the county.

Another feature of the exhibition will be the display of dresses which were fashionable in the days of long ago, shown in contrast with the styles of today.

Many of the antiques to be shown are said to be of great monetary and historic value and should prove of great interest to the people of this community.

The exhibition will be open at 2 p. m. each day, November 9, 10 and 11.

In the afternoons patrons will be served with refreshments and interesting programs will be rendered each evening.

The proceeds will be used to pay for the new heating plant.

Mrs. E. E. Starner Is Buried Today

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Starner, widow of John T. Starner, died Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at her home in Paradise township, Abbottstown R. 1. She was aged 81 years. Death was due to chronic valvular heart disease.

Mrs. Starner was a daughter of Jacob and Lydia Linsefelter Weik and was born August 9, 1852, at Silver Run, Maryland.

Surviving are four children: Harry F. Starner, Sylmar, Maryland; Miss Fannie F. Starner and Jacob Starner, Hanover; and Calvin Starner, twelve grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock from the W. A. Peiser funeral home, Hanover, the Rev. Felix B. Peck, pastor of St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, officiating. Burial in Union cemetery, Silver Run, Maryland.

To Pay Fine For Code Violation

J. C. Minter, Cashtown, today said he would pay his fine of $7.00 after he was charged with failing to stop at a stop-sign near the high school. Minter said he slowed his car, in second gear, as he approached the stop-sign and that he was not aware that he was to face charges until he was notified by Justice of the Peace Shealer. Officer Spence laid the information.

16 Children At Well Baby Clinic

Sixteen children attended the well baby clinic conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Red Cross rooms on High street by Miss Mary Grove.

Those present were: Clement Stull, Gettysburg R. 1; Charles Henry Ford, Betty Louise Ford, Charles Richard Kitzmiller, Mary Ellen Diehl, Esther Diehl, Alfred Cross Joseph T. Hamilton, Theodore Schmidt, Mary Elizabeth Pittenturf, Harry Pittenturf, Jr., Ethel Viola Sheely, Janet Jacobs James Bracey, Rose Aughinbaugh, and Catherine Ann Guiden.

URSINUS CO-EDS HONOR NATIVE

Dr. Whorton H. Kline Serves Institution For Past Forty Years.

A native of Adams county, near Sell's station, Dr. Whorton H. Kline, dean of Ursinus college, was honored by the Women's student government association at that school, commemorating the fortieth anniversary of his connection with the college. The association planted an oak tree on the campus in honor of Doctor Kline.

Doctor Kline was born near Christ church. Later his parents moved to Smith's Station, east of Hanover. He now owns a farm on the Hanover-Littlestown pike near the Sheppard-Myers farm. Doctor Kline is single. His parents are both deceased.

Doctor Kline has been dean of Ursinus for 24 years. He graduated from that institution in 1893, and started to teach at that time. He is a member of the classical association of the middle states and Maryland and also the Philadelphia botanical club. Doctor Kline is a national authority on plant life.

Services in connection with the tree-planting were held at the regular chapel services in the Bomberger memorial chapel last week. In a few remarks of introduction, President Omwake said: "The oak tree has been selected for two reasons, because of its deep rooting in its surroundings, symbolizing the interest that has been shown here by Doctor Kline in his connection with the college, and because of the sturdy character that it possesses, which is indeed symbolical of the life of Dean Kline."

Doctor Kline's words of acceptance were few. He expressed the hope that the tree might also be significant of the Ursinus student body having their character rooted deeply in faith, and pointed out that the species of tree chosen was illustrative of this kind of life.

GETS RED FOX

Charles O. Rosensteel, Steinwehr avenue, today reported killing a red fox and his limit of rabbits. The fox was killed in the vicinity of a town of Round Top.

Mrs. G. A. Danforth left today for her home at Bristol, Vermont, after a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Walter H. Danforth, Broadway.

CAPT. MC CALL LEAVES OFFICE

Assistant Superintendent Of Cemetery Is Retired From Service.

Captain James F. McCall, assistant superintendent of the Gettysburg National cemetery, has been retired from active service. His retirement went into effect at the close of work October 31.

Captain McCall had expressed a desire to be retired and this information was communicated to the department of the interior. His application was acted upon at once.

Superintendent James R. McConaghie assumed the duties of superintendent of the cemetery sometime ago and Captain McCall remained as assistant. He was superintendent when he first came to Gettysburg.

Captain McCall came to Gettysburg four years ago. He served as a superintendent of the national cemetery at Hopewell, Virginia, and later at Fredericksburg, Virginia, before coming to Gettysburg. He has served about 14 years in the cemetery service and he was also a retired Spanish American War veteran.

Captain McCall received $85.70 as superintendent of the local cemetery. He also received a Spanish American war pension of $50 but this latter amount was recently cut to $15 per month. It is not known what his retirement pay will be.

At the present time Captain McCall is seriously ill at the cemetery lodge. His plans for the future are indefinite. He will remain with Mrs. McCall at the cemetery lodge until he has fully recovered.

Four Players Are Lost To Bullet Team

Misfortune in bitter doses befell the Gettysburg football squad today. Johnny Cicco, blocking halfback, and Herb Ewing, varsity tackle, were removed to the infirmary for treatment of maladies. Joe Bredbenner and Paul Aurand, linemen, were injured in practice. These casualties have caused no little concern to Bullet coaches and players in view of the important game with Ursinus here on Saturday.

It was disclosed by the team physician today that the two injured players and Cicco were definitely out of the lineup for Saturday. Cicco is suffering from a throat infection which may require a minor operation and keep him out of the lineup for sometime. It is quite likely that Albert Ott, husky sophomore, will assay to fill Cicco's shoes in the contest with the Bears.

The Bullets were sent through a hard scrimmage Wednesday against Ursinus plays, as reproduced by the Frosh eleven. While the revamped varsity team stopped the frosh plays, they fully realized that Captain Troup and company of Ursinus were not packing the old piskin.

BOY SCOUT NUT TREE PLANTING FETE ON NOV. 11

Tree Planter Medal To Be Awarded By National Committee.

LOCAL SCOUTS LEAD COUNTRY

Gettysburg boy scouts' annual ceremonial and special nut tree planting program, at the Pennsylvania monument, will take place at 1:30 o'clock on the afternoon of November 11.

Gettysburg and Adams county scouts have led the country in this annual nut gathering and nut tree planting program and have won the acclaim of scout executives, state foresters and forest conservation officials throughout the entire country.

Each year the boy scouts gather nuts for nut tree planting in various sections of the country and the ceremonial here has been broadcast in the press throughout the country.

Throughout the country scouts gather walnuts to perpetuate America's great heritage. Last year Gettysburg scouts gathered 1,017 bushels, a world's record. These nuts were used to supply with walnut trees farms, public parks, scout camps, and school yards.

Plant Million Trees
The national nut tree planting council set as its goal the planting of a million nut trees with traditions during one year. To accomplish this it was first necessary to secure seeds in large quantities from historic grounds. The seeds have all been distributed.

Some were planted in a Washington nursery in order that small trees might be available for planting on special occasions and in historical groves or on other public grounds.

The committee directing the national nut tree planting program will award the tree planter medal to each person who carries through one or more of the following projects:

1. Gather and secure the planting of one bushel of nut seeds. He need not plant all the seeds himself, but he must send a record of their planting to the committee, stating by whom, when, and where.
2. Plants one bushel of nut seeds.
3. Plants twenty-five nut trees.
4. Is responsible for the establishment of an historical grove. All of the work must be done according to instructions and a record, countersigned by parents, scoutmaster, club leader, or a responsible adult, be sent to the committee. The committee will consider any outstanding service in nut tree planting and award medals when merited.

The certificate of recognition and registration will be awarded to all who take part in any one of the projects.

Scouts are urged to send a record of their qualifications for the tree planter medal or certificate to National Nut Tree Planting committee, 1713 K street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. E. Wenschhof Funeral On Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Lily (Harner) Wenschhof, 39, wife of Edward Wenschhof, of Cumberland, Maryland, and a native of Adams county, who died in Harrisburg, early Tuesday morning, will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Bender funeral home, Carlisle street, the Rev. John E. Sanderson, pastor of the Mt. Joy Lutheran church, officiating. Interment will be private in the Mt. Joy cemetery.

State Gas Tax Revenue Gains

Revenues from the state tax on gasoline are increasing, the state revenue department reported Wednesday. Gas tax receipts for June, July, August and September were $150,000 more than for the corresponding period last year. The four-month total was $1,124,124; last year it was $1,089,218.

This increase occurred, the department said, despite a decrease of 41,000 in the number of passenger vehicles registered. Truck registration is 2,000 greater than for last year.

STUDENT CUT ON HEAD

Richard Long, a student at Gettysburg college, was treated for lacerations of the forehead at the Warner hospital, Wednesday evening, after he fell from a porch.

Fractures Arm In Auto Crash

Clyde Forney, 40, of Waynesboro, suffered a compound fracture of the left arm in an automobile accident, five miles north of York Springs, Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Forney was riding in a coupe driven by E. G. Snyder, 65, of Waynesboro. Patrolman H. S. Roberts, of the local sub-station of the state motor patrol, said Snyder, who was traveling north, told him he was about to pass a truck, going in the same direction, when the larger machine forced his coupe from the highway.

Although Snyder's machine was damaged to the extent of $125, it was able to be driven away under its own power. Snyder brought Forney to the Warner hospital where the fracture was reduced after which he was discharged as a patient.

STATE MOTOR GROUP URGES FOOT PATHS

Special Lanes For Pedestrians Recommended By Federation Unit.

CITES LOSS OF LIFE IN MISHAPS

Construction of pedestrian walks along highways where traffic is heavy was urged today by the Pennsylvania Motor federation, A. A. A., to cut the mounting toll of pedestrian accidents on Pennsylvania highways. The state motoring body will recommend to the highway department that pedestrian walks be built along heavily traveled highways in several parts of Pennsylvania and a study made of the effects in reducing accident hazards. Efforts will be made to obtain federal funds for these projects.

S. Edward Gable, president of the federation and chairman of the national traffic safety committee of the A. A. A., pointed out that walks along highways are just as important as widening of roadways to three, four or five traffic lanes. "Thousands of school children in suburban and rural districts are required to walk along highways every day," he said. "Through teacher supervision we give them protection against accident hazards in and around schools, and by safety patrols we protect them at dangerous intersections, but little is being done to safeguard the life and limb of boys and girls who have to walk along highways daily en route to and from school. Construction of pedestrian walks along highways where traffic conditions warrant will protect these children, as well as adults who are required to walk along these roads."

Night Accidents
"Surveys show that accidents in which pedestrians are involved are more frequent at night than during the day, and that more occur in winter than during the heavier traffic of the summer months. One of the most complete studies on this subject was made recently in New York state, where it was found that in a period of twelve months (Continued on Page 2)

Hanson To Head Xmas Seals Group

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, has accepted appointment as chairman of the Adams county committee sponsoring the sale of Christmas seals this year.

Paul Spangler was appointed treasurer of the committee and will handle the funds.

Judge Donald P. McPherson, Professor Lloyd C. Keefauver and the Rev. Frederick B. Crane, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church, have been appointed on the committee.

Rubber-Check Artist Working In This Sector

State police today warned local merchants to be on the look-out for a stranger, who represents himself as a veteran of the Spanish and World wars, and who has been passing worthless checks in Chambersburg. The man is described as between 45 and 50 years old, weighing 145 pounds, of slender build and having brown hair. He wears a blue suit, with brown overalls and a brown hat or cap.

200 DELEGATES AT OPENING OF LEAGUE GROUP

Encouraging Reports Of Year's Activities Given By 16 Chapters.

BANQUET AT 6:30 WILL BE FEATURE

Encouraging reports on the year's activities of the sixteen branch chapters of the Woman's League of Gettysburg college were presented by delegates to the twenty-second annual convention of the general league at the Y. M. C. A. building at college this morning.

Mrs. C. R. Phillips, of Harrisburg, president of the league, presided. Nearly 200 persons were in attendance.

Delegates of the sixteen branch leagues, representing a total membership in excess of 3,500 women, reported increased enrollment and treasury balances maintained despite the depression.

This morning's program opened at 10:30 o'clock with devotionals conducted by Mrs. Samuel S. Fackler, of Harrisburg. During the opening service, Miss Edna Eggert, of Harrisburg, sang a solo.

Mrs. Hanson Speaks
After a report of the credentials committee, Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, wife of the president of Gettysburg college, welcomed the delegates to Gettysburg, and Mrs. Raymond W. Samuel, of York, gave the response.

The reports of the branch leagues were then given, with Miss Grace P. Fuhrman, of Baltimore, recording secretary, calling the roll. Group singing followed.

Edward S. Frey, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., then gave his annual address to the delegates in which he stressed the fact that the problem of the Y. M. C. A. is to support and foster a real Christian spirit on the campus.

Names Committees
Mrs. Phillips then announced the following committee appointments:

Nominating: Mrs. George W. Nicely, Johnstown; Mrs. Howard F. Bink, Camp Hill, and Mrs. R. C. Shindle, Altoona.

Resolutions: Mrs. Jacob Rudisill, Harrisburg; Mrs. John Bihn, Camden, New Jersey, and Mrs. Horace Geisel, Harrisburg.

At noon a number of women attended a luncheon at Christ Lutheran church, while others were guests at the various fraternity houses.

Afternoon Session
This afternoon's session got under way at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Phillips presiding. The devotionals were conducted by Mrs. O. C. Dean, of Hanover.

A service of remembrance, honoring the memory of college league members who died during the year, was held in charge of Mrs. C. H. Bristol, of Philadelphia.

Other speakers during the afternoon were Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college; Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Albert D. Spangler, Washington, D. C., treasurer; Mrs. H. L. Creager, Palmyra, New Jersey, statistical secretary; Mrs. S. S. Fackler, Harrisburg, report of junior leagues; Mrs. C. F. Sanders, Gettysburg, literature committee; Mrs. George W. Shaffer, Altoona, historian; Mrs. J. I. Burgoon, Gettysburg, registrar; Mrs. Percy D. Hoover, Waynesboro, finance committee, and Mrs. George W. Nicely, of Johnstown.

Expect 250 at Banquet

Plans are being made to accommodate 250 persons at the annual banquet at the Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium, this evening, with Mrs. John C. Bowers, of Baltimore, as toastmaster. The junior league of Baltimore will present a pageant at the banquet and toasts will be given by a number of women.

Women of the Gettysburg Methodist Episcopal church will serve the banquet. The Old Dorm quarter and the Rev. Mr. Heller will sing at the banquet. Joseph Harvey, of the college, will be the cornetist.

The annual convention closes Friday morning.

Local Girl Is Married In West

Mrs. George Hampton, York street, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Leila Davis, and Robert Howe, of Carlisle. The ceremony was performed in Chicago, October 18, where the bride is taking a course in beauty culture. Mr. Howe has returned to his home in Carlisle. Mrs. Howe will remain in Carlisle until she finishes the course in beauty culture.

Asking a wife about her "better half" merely shows that you don't know your fractions.

Rabbits Chief Item On Table In Local Homes

Rabbits, fried, baked, stewed and in potpie, were the piece de resistance in hundreds of Gettysburg and Adams county homes today, following the opening of the small game season, Wednesday.

Rabbit is considered a delicacy by many people and with most hunters bagging some bunnies on the opening day no one who likes rabbit need be without one or two today.

Even the prisoners at the Adams county jail enjoyed fried rabbit for dinner today through the prowess of Sheriff John C. Wible. Sheriff Wible bagged five cottontails, Wednesday, and today he served them to the sixteen prisoners.

KILLS WILD TURKEY
Raymond Pepple, Orrtanna, shot a ten-pound wild turkey in Fulton county Wednesday afternoon. Two shots were required to bring the bird down. Hunting with Mr. Pepple were H. B. Saum and Glyde Lauver, also of Orrtanna.

GIRLS ARRANGE NOVEL FEATURE

"Century Of Progress" Exhibition Will Be Presented November 9, 10, 11.

Preparations are being made to hold a "Century of Progress" exhibition at the Y. W. C. A. building.

The undertaking is being sponsored by the Home-craft club, assisted by the Business and Professional women's club, the Annie Danner club and the Adult club of York Springs.

The exhibition will include modern dining and bedroom suites made by the Gettysburg and Reaser Furniture companies, shown in contrast with rooms furnished with antique furniture loaned by people living in various parts of the county.

Another feature of the exhibition will be the display of dresses which were fashionable in the days of long ago, shown in contrast with the styles of today.

Many of the antiques to be shown are said to be of great monetary and historic value, and should prove of great interest to the people of this community.

The exhibition will be open at 2 p. m. each day, November 9, 10 and 11.

In the afternoons patrons will be served with refreshments and interesting programs will be rendered each evening.

The proceeds will be used to pay for the new heating plant.

Mrs. E. E. Starner Is Buried Today

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Starner, widow of John T. Starner, died Tuesday evening at 7:50 o'clock at her home in Paradise township, Abbottstown R. 1. She was aged 81 years. Death was due to chronic valvular heart disease.

Mrs. Starner was a daughter of Jacob and Lydia Lingeferter Welk, and was born August 9, 1852, at Silver Run, Maryland.

Surviving are four children, Harry P. Starner, Sylmar, Maryland; Miss Pannie V. Starner and Jacob Starner, Hanover; and Calvin Starner; twelve grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock from the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Hanover, the Rev. Felix B. Peck, pastor of St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, officiating. Burial in Union cemetery, Silver Run, Maryland.

To Pay Fine For Code Violation

J. C. Minter, Cashdown, today said he would pay his fine of $7.00 after he was charged with failing to stop at a stop-sign near the high school. Minter said he slowed his car, in second gear, as he approached the stop-sign and that he was not aware that he was to face charges until he was notified by Justice of the Peace Shealer. Officer Spence laid the information.

URSINUS CO-EDS HONOR NATIVE

Dr. Whorton H. Kline Serves Institution For Past Forty Years.

A native of Adams county, near Sell's station, Dr. Whorton H. Kline, dean of Ursinus college, was honored by the Women's student government association at that school, commemorating the fortieth anniversary of his connection with the college. The association planted an oak tree on the campus in honor of Doctor Kline.

Doctor Kline was born near Christ church. Later his parents moved to Smith's Station, east of Hanover. He now owns a farm on the Hanover-Littlestown pike, near the Sheppard-Myers farm. Doctor Kline is single. His parents are both deceased.

Doctor Kline has been dean of Ursinus for 24 years. He graduated from that institution in 1893, and started to teach at that time. He is a member of the classical association of the middle states and Maryland and also the Philadelphia botanical club. Doctor Kline is a national authority on plant life.

Services in connection with the tree-planting were held at the regular chapel services in the Bomberger memorial chapel last week. In a few remarks of introduction, President Omwake said: "The oak tree has been selected for two reasons, because of its deep rooting in its surroundings, symbolizing the interest that has been shown here by Doctor Kline in his connection with the college, and because of the sturdy character that it possesses, which is indeed symbolical of the life of Dean Kline."

Doctor Kline's words of acceptance were few. He expressed the hope that the tree might also be significant of the Ursinus student body having their character rooted deeply in faith, and pointed out that the species of tree chosen was illustrative of this kind of life.

BOY SCOUT NUT TREE PLANTING FETE ON NOV. 11

Tree Planter Medal To Be Awarded By National Committee.

LOCAL SCOUTS LEAD COUNTRY

Gettysburg boy scouts' annual ceremonial and special nut tree planting program, at the Pennsylvania monument, will take place at 1:30 o'clock on the afternoon of November 11.

Gettysburg and Adams county scouts have led the country in this annual nut gathering and nut tree planting program and have won the acclaim of scout executives, state foresters and forest conservation officials throughout the entire country.

Each year the boy scouts gather nuts for nut tree planting in various sections of the country and the ceremonial here has been broadcast in the press throughout the country.

Throughout the country scouts gather walnuts to perpetuate America's great heritage. Last year Gettysburg scouts gathered 1,017 bushels, a world's record. These nuts were used to supply with walnut trees farms, public parks, scout camps, and school yards.

Plant Million Trees

The national nut tree planting council set as its goal the planting of a million nut trees with traditions during one year. To accomplish this it was first necessary to secure seeds in large quantities from historic grounds. The seeds have all been distributed.

Some were planted in a Washington nursery in order that small trees might be available for planting on special occasions and in historical groves or on other public grounds.

The committee directing the national nut tree planting program will award the tree planter medal to each person who carries through one or more of the following projects:

1. Gather and secure the planting of one bushel of nut seeds. He need not plant all the seeds himself, but he must send a record of their planting to the committee, stating by whom, when, and where.
2. Plants one bushel of nut seeds.
3. Plants twenty-five nut trees.
4. Is responsible for the establishment of an historical grove. All of the work must be done according to instructions and a record, countersigned by parents, scoutmaster, club leader, or a responsible adult, be sent to the committee. The committee will consider any outstanding service in nut tree planting and award medals when merited.

The certificate of recognition and registration will be awarded to all who take part in any one of the projects.

Scouts are urged to send a record of their qualifications for the tree planter medal or certificate to National Nut Tree Planting committee, 1713 K street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. E. Wenschhof Funeral On Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Lily (Harner) Wenschhof, 39, wife of Edward Wenschhof, of Cumberland, Maryland, and a native of Adams county, who died in Harrisburg, early Tuesday morning, will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Bender funeral home, Carlisle street, the Rev. John E. Sanderson, pastor of the Mt. Joy Lutheran church, officiating. Interment will be private in the Mt. Joy cemetery.

State Gas Tax Revenue Gains

Revenues from the state tax on gasoline are increasing, the state revenue department reported Wednesday. Gas tax receipts for June, July, August and September were $150,000 more than for the corresponding period last year. The four-month total was $1,242,124; last year it was $1,089,218.

This increase occurred, the department said, despite a decrease of 41,000 in the number of passenger vehicles registered. Truck registration is 2,000 greater than for last year.

STUDENT CUT ON HEAD
Richard Long, a student at Gettysburg college, was treated for lacerations of the forehead at the Warner hospital, Wednesday evening, after he fell from a porch.

Fractures Arm In Auto Crash

Clyde Forney, 40, of Waynesboro, suffered a compound fracture of the left arm in an automobile accident, five miles north of York Springs, Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Forney was riding in a coupe driven by E. G. Snyder, 65, of Waynesboro. Patrolman H. S. Roberts, of the local sub-station of the state motor patrol, said Snyder, who was traveling north, told him he was about to pass a truck, going in the same direction, when the larger machine forced his coupe from the highway.

Although Snyder's machine was damaged to the extent of $125, it was able to be driven away under its own power. Snyder brought Forney to the Warner hospital where the fracture was reduced after which he was discharged as a patient.

STATE MOTOR GROUP URGES FOOT PATHS

Special Lanes For Pedestrians Recommended By Federation Unit.

CITES LOSS OF LIFE IN MISHAPS

Construction of pedestrian walks along highways where traffic is heavy was urged today by the Pennsylvania Motor federation, A. A. A., to cut the mounting toll of pedestrian accidents on Pennsylvania highways. The state motoring body will recommend to the highway department that pedestrian walks be built along heavily traveled highways in several parts of Pennsylvania and a study made of the effects in reducing accident hazards. Efforts will be made to obtain federal works funds for these projects.

S. Edward Gable, president of the federation and chairman of the national traffic safety committee of the A. A. A., pointed out that walks along highways are just as important as widening of roadways to three, four or five traffic lanes. "Thousands of school children in suburban and rural districts are required to walk along highways every day," he said. "Through teacher supervision we give them protection against accident hazards in and around schools, and by safety patrols we protect them at dangerous intersections, but little is being done to safeguard the life and limb of boys and girls who have to walk along highways daily en route to and from school. Construction of pedestrian walks along highways where traffic conditions warrant will protect these children, as well as adults who are required to walk along these roads."

Night Accidents
"Surveys show that accidents in which pedestrians are involved are more frequent at night than during the day, and that more occur in winter than during the heavier traffic of the summer months. One of the most complete studies on this subject was made recently in New York state, where it was found that in a period of twelve months (Continued on Page 2)

Hanson To Head Xmas Seals Group

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, has accepted appointment as chairman of the Adams county committee sponsoring the sale of Christmas seals this year.

Paul Spangler was appointed treasurer of the committee and will handle the funds.

Judge Donald P. McPherson, Professor Lloyd C. Keefeauver and the Rev. Frederick B. Crane, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church, have been appointed on the committee.

Rubber-Check Artist Working In This Sector

State police today warned local merchants to be on the look-out for a stranger, who represents himself as a veteran of the Spanish and World wars, and who has been passing worthless checks in Chambersburg. The man is described as between 45 and 50 years old, weighing 145 pounds, of slender build and having brown hair. He wears a blue suit, with brown ex-fords and a brown hat or cap.

200 DELEGATES AT OPENING OF LEAGUE GROUP

Encouraging Reports Of Year's Activities Given By 16 Chapters.

BANQUET AT 6:30 WILL BE FEATURE

Encouraging reports on the year's activities of the sixteen branch chapters of the Woman's League of Gettysburg college were presented by delegates to the twenty-second annual convention of the general league at the Y. M. C. A. building at college this morning.

Mrs. C. R. Phillips, of Harrisburg, president of the league, presided. Nearly 200 persons were in attendance.

Delegates of the sixteen branch leagues, representing a total membership in excess of 3,500 women, reported increased enrollment and treasury balances maintained despite the depression.

This morning's program opened at 10:30 o'clock with devotionals conducted by Mrs. Samuel S. Packler, of Harrisburg. During the opening service, Miss Edna Eggert, of Harrisburg, sang a solo.

Mrs. Hanson Speaks
After a report of the credentials committee, Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, wife of the president of Gettysburg college, welcomed the delegates to Gettysburg, and Mrs. Raymond W. Sammel, of York, gave the response.

The reports of the branch leagues were then given, with Miss Grace P. Fuhrman, of Baltimore, recording secretary, calling the roll. Group singing followed.

Edward S. Frey, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., then gave his annual address to the delegates in which he stressed the fact that the problem of the Y. M. C. A. is to support and foster a real Christian spirit on the campus.

Names Committees

Mrs. Phillips then announced the following committee appointments:

Nominating: Mrs. George W. Nicely, Johnstown; Mrs. Howard F. Bink, Camp Hill, and Mrs. R. C. Shindle, Altoona.

Resolutions: Mrs. Jacob Rudisill, Harrisburg; Mrs. John Blinn, Camden, New Jersey, and Mrs. Horace Geisel, Harrisburg.

At noon a number of women attended a luncheon at Christ Lutheran church, while others were guests at the various fraternity houses.

Afternoon Session
This afternoon's session got under way at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Phillips presiding. The devotionals were conducted by Mrs. O. C. Dean, of Hanover.

A service of remembrance, honoring the memory of college league members who died during the year, was held in charge of Mrs. C. H. Bristol, of Philadelphia.

Other speakers during the afternoon were Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college; Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Albert D. Spangler, Washington, D. C., treasurer; Mrs. H. L. Creager, Palmyra, New Jersey, statistical secretary; Mrs. S. S. Fackler, Harrisburg, report of junior leagues; Mrs. C. P. Sanders, Gettysburg, literature committee; Mrs. George W. Shaffer, Altoona, historian; Mrs. J. I. Burgoon, Gettysburg, registrar, and Mrs. Percy D. Hoover, Waynesboro, finance committee, and Mrs. George W. Nicely, of Johnstown.

Expect 250 at Banquet

Plans are being made to accommodate 250 persons at the annual banquet at the Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium, this evening, with Mrs. John C. Bowers, of Baltimore, as toastmistress. The junior league of Baltimore will present a pageant at the banquet and toasts will be given by a number of women.

Women of the Gettysburg Methodist Episcopal church will serve the banquet. The Old Dorm quartet and the Rev. Mr. Heller will sing at the banquet. Joseph Harvey, of the college, will be the cornetist.

The annual convention closes Friday morning.

Local Girl Is Married In West

Mrs. George Hampton, York street, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Lella Davis, and Robert Howe, of Carlisle. The ceremony was performed in Chicago, October 18, where the bride is taking a course in beauty culture. Mrs. Howe has returned to his home in Carlisle. Mrs. Howe will remain in Carlisle until she finishes the course in beauty culture.

Making Insurance Protection Last Longer

Your family will hardly need all your life insurance money at one time. If it is paid to them in a lump sum, they will face the difficulties and worries of conserving it for future use.

Wouldn't they be glad to have this problem lifted from their shoulders right from the start—to receive, instead of a lot of cash, a fixed income from The Gettysburg National Bank.

We will be glad to tell you more about this plan.

Fair Attendance Aids Farm Study

Half a million rural people of Pennsylvania will attend local fairs this fall in centers operating vocational schools and departments of vocational agriculture. Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction, said "these harvest festivals are institutions that have not been effected to any great extent by existing economic conditions or the major problems facing agriculture. Local fairs, over a period of twenty years, have become real homecoming events. The cost of operation is very low and premium lists are small. Farm products are exhibited largely for the pride and satisfaction that come from their excellence. These fairs have done much to improve local agriculture and the most progressive farmers find that the fairs aid in disposing of their crops as seed and their stock for breeding purposes. The local fairs at vocational school centers are main feeders for the state farm show. Prize winners in every department prepare for the kener competition which they encounter in the state show.

Issues Licenses For 457,165 Dogs

A total of 457,165 dog licenses have been issued, 19,203 uncontrolled dogs killed, 1,888 dog owners prosecuted and 1,538 damage claims to $23,817.13 received this year to date, according to the bureau of animal industry, Pennsylvania department of agriculture.

Comparing this report with the report on the corresponding date a year ago, it is found that this year, 10,248 fewer dogs have been licensed, 828 fewer uncontrolled dogs have been killed, 466 fewer dog owners have been prosecuted, and $11,904.69 less in damage claims has been received.

The gross income to rice growers in this country declined from $45,000,000 a year in the 1924-28 period to $15,000,000 last year.

The Ladies' Bible class of the Bendersville Lutheran Sunday school met Wednesday night with Mrs. Benton Fidler.

Negro With Glass Eye Foils Police

Carlisle, Nov. 2.—Duping police by removing a glass eye, thereby causing them looking for a man with "two" eyes, to release him temporarily, D. J. Cleasant, 35, Cooks-ville, Maryland, was later arrested and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Cleasant, a negro, posed, it is alleged, as an Assyrian doctor with offices in Washington and Baltimore, and sold his special elixir to a local woman for $16.50.

He eluded the police as he alighted from a motorbus. Later they found him walking along the highway. In the police car the officers found they had a one-eyed man and released him. Still skeptical, they picked him up again, searched him and found his second eye, a glass one, in his pocket.

TWO MEN ACQUITTED OF ARMED ROBBERY

Miami, Fla., Nov. 2 (AP)—A jury Wednesday acquitted Charles Howard and James Malden of armed robbery charges in connection with the hotel Anglers robbery last February. James Williams, a third defendant, also was acquitted of armed charges, but was convicted of a charge of being an accessory after the fact.

The trio, charged specifically with armed robbery, took the stand and denied connection with the hold-up, that occurred after a hotel clerk and a negro bellboy were bound and gagged by four bandits.

A fourth suspect, James Marci, has not been captured.

WOUNDED MAN ADMITS KILLING

Frederick Police Say Suspect Confessed He Was Jealous.

Frederick, Nov. 2 (AP)—George F. Schultz, 63-year-old employee of the state health department, who according to Frederick county officers, has made a formal confession that he killed Mrs. Bessie C. Darling, has a "fair chance" to live, doctors said Wednesday.

At the Frederick hospital, where Schultz was taken after the shooting at the hotel which Mrs. Darling managed at Deerfield, Maryland, an operation was performed to remove the bullet from Schultz's kidney region Wednesday afternoon.

Jealous of Farmer

Officers said that in the statement which Schultz made in the presence of Sheriff Charles W. Crum and State's Attorney Walter E. Sinn he named as the man of whom he was jealous a farmer living near Deerfield. When questioned, however, the farmer insisted that he knew Mrs. Darling only "as a neighbor" and that Schultz had no reason to be jealous.

Schultz's statement was in line with that of Mazie Willard, hotel maid, who said she saw the killing. Her evidence indicated, officers said, that Mrs. Darling had grown afraid of Schultz. She had a gun in her hand when he forced his way into the hotel and came to her bedroom door, the maid said. It was never fired, however, as Schultz shot almost as soon as he entered the room.

Arrangements were made for Mrs. Darling to be buried at Thurmont this afternoon.

F. AND M. STUDENTS OPPOSE OPENING DOOR TO WOMEN

Lancaster, Nov. 2.—Franklin and Marshall college students are opposed to admitting women to the institution, according to opinions expressed on questionnaires circulated by the student weekly.

Eighty college men voted against women being admitted to the school and sixty-two favored coeds. One student wrote on his ballot: "Women are a nuisance—in school."

DANCER'S TEAM CUT

Chicago, Nov. 2 (AP)—Sally Rand, of fan dance fame Wednesday won a reduction in her sentence on an indecent performance charge of ten days in the house of correction and a fine of $200.

Judge McGary previously had sentenced the dancer to a year in jail and fined her $200. Later the judge overruled a motion for a new trial but granted a motion for mitigation of the first sentence.

NEEDY GET $8,400,000

Tokio, Nov. 2 (AP)—What is believed to be the largest private benefaction in Japanese history, an $8,400,000 foundation for relieving distress among peasants, was announced today by the wealthy Mitsui banking family.

Scientific and industrial research and requests to charity organizations were included. Vernacular newspapers recalled that reactionary patriotic agitations in the last two years made the Mitsui house a target as a result of agrarian poverty and resentment against capitalists' profits.

PEACE REIGNS IN FARMERS' WAR

Leaders Of Three Units Repudiate State President
Who Pled For Peace.

(By Associated Press)

Peaceful picketing by Minnesota farmers was ordered for today by the farmer's holiday association of that state in connection with agriculture's efforts to win higher prices for farm products.

This development came while the governors of mid-western states were carrying the farm strike problem to President Roosevelt for a solution.

Strikers seized an interurban car at Watertown, Wisconsin, and dumped 17,000 pounds of milk. At Plymouth, Wisconsin, the windows of a cheese factory were broken by a bomb.

Leaders of three association units repudiated their state president, Arnold Gilberts, by favoring continuation of the strike despite Gilbert's recent order for a temporary suspension.

At Des Moines, Milo Reno, president of the national farmers holiday association, said the strike was in "inactive suspension," pending the conference of governors with Mr. Roosevelt.

Bar Hunters From Hospital Grounds

The grounds of the Danville state hospital for mental diseases will be preserved as a game refuge, according to announcement by the board of trustees.

For several years hunting has been forbidden on the 600 or more acres of farm and woodland surrounding the hospital, in an effort to preserve game life and create a reservoir of wild life that will in time contribute to the stocking of surrounding grounds.

An abundance of small game, including rabbits, squirrels, quail and ringnecked pheasants flourish on the grounds. Some trespassing and illegal hunting has been discovered and members of the board of trustees announced that prosecutions would follow any further violations.

Football Dangers Jeered By Tackle

University, Ala. (AP)—Football may have its dangers for some, but Charlie Marr, veteran Alabama tackle, regards it as "pink tea" compared with what other sports have done to him.

Once he was playing baseball and a hot grounder took a bad bounce, fracturing his skull.

Two years ago he dived into a swimming pool and dislocated several vertebrae in his neck. He wore a brace for months.

The worst thing several years of football has done was to leave a slight bruise on his leg.

Indiana Refs Get No Votes In Ring

Indianapolis (AP)—A three-judge system of scoring boxing contests, with the referee having nothing to do with awarding a decision is being tried in Indiana.

Al G. Peeney, former Notre Dame football star and the one-man athletic commission of the state, believes the referee has too much to do in the ring to know how things are going.

With that in mind, he decided to appoint three judges to give the decision, based on the ten-points to the round system.

Indiana is believed to be the only state in the union using the three-judge plan.

CLEAR DALE

Clear Dale—A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lemmon, near this place, last Friday evening, in honor of Mr. Lemmon, who celebrated his fifty-third birthday anniversary. Refreshments were served. A cake with fifty-three candles formed the center-piece of the table. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lemmon, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lippy, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bankert, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Reaver, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Legore, Mr. and Mrs. John Legore, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. the route to the Netherlands and consequently the departure northward may be made today or Friday, if the weather permits.

The possibility that the Americans might take up residence in southern France has been rumored repeatedly since the middle of May. It was thought likely that they might return for a short stay in the United States before coming to the Mediterranean coast.

"We wanted to see Paris quietly on this visit," the colonel said Wednesday as he left his hotel for farewell calls at the air ministry. He refused, however, to comment on the plans, which were revealed Wednesday night through French sources.

The five days they have spent here have been so filled with business connected with the aerial survey, friends said, that Colonel Lindbergh has not seen any of the sights other than those he saw six years ago when he flew across the Atlantic.

The absence of crowds, however, during the current visit have enabled him to see those sights better.

The air ministry has supplied him with much technical information. Leading French aviators have consulted Colonel Lindbergh on projects and problems of their own and have received prompt opinions.

Bullet Soccer Team Loses, 1-0

The Gettysburg college soccer team suffered its first defeat of the season Wednesday afternoon, bowing to Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster, 1-0.

Hurst's goal in the second period was the only score made in the hotly contested battle. Darkness overtook the players and the entire last half was played in semi-darkness which reduced scoring possibilities to a minimum.

Forest Workers Gather Seed Crop

According to John W. Keller, deputy secretary of the department of forests and waters, which supervises the raising and planting of trees in the state, more than 1200 bushels of various kinds of native Pennsylvania tree seeds have been collected during the past fall, most of them by the forest workers.

Of this quantity of seed 300 bushels were black walnuts, 225 bushels red oak acorns, and 150 bushels white pine cones. Other species of seeds collected were sugar maple, tulip tree, hemlock, pitch pine, and white ash.

FATHER SEEKS TWO CHILDREN

Court Extends Hearing To Permit New Counsel To Call Witnesses.

Judge Ray P. Sherwood, of York county court, has continued hearing on a petition for change in an order of habeas corpus proceedings in which Joseph Matthews asked for custody of his two minor children until next Monday. This was done to give J. Edgar Small, counsel for Mrs. Matthews, opportunity to secure witnesses.

This case was before the York court more than three years ago when Mrs. Matthews, who lives apart from her husband, now in Gettysburg, was given custody of the children. Several months ago Matthews started habeas corpus proceedings in Gettysburg, but Judge McPherson dismissed the writ on the ground that the matter was out of his jurisdiction since an order had been made by the York county court.

In the petition by the father for a change in the order he alleged that the mother is not a fit person to care for the children. The court Monday indicated that on the testimony heard the children would be given to the father. Since Mr. Small was retained only a short time before the hearing he asked that he be given opportunity to summon witnesses to show that the father is no more fit to rear the children than the mother. The judge granted his request.

Retards Aid In Fish Protection

Practical stream improvement is demonstrated at a project on the Lackawaxen river at the fish commission's Pleasant Mount hatchery, in Wayne county. Dams and log retards have been constructed in the stream at points where it passes through the fish commission's property. Each pool, created by swift falls, riffles, and eddies, harbors a maximum number of trout ranging in length from 6 to 14 inches.

At several of the log retards, small waterfalls have fashioned natural pools highly adaptable for trout from the standpoint of water aeration and protection. Sportsmen interested in stream improvement who visit the hatchery this summer should find much of interest in this improvement project, officials said.

Girls' Cage Team Shifts Home Site

Oklahoma City (AP)—They aren't going to be the Durant Cardinals any more.

Effective November 6, Coach S. F. Babb announced, the two-time women's national A. A. U. basketball champions will transfer their allegiance from Southeastern Oklahoma Teachers college at Durant to Oklahoma City university.

Earlier this year they transferred from Oklahoma Presbyterian college at Durant, which had sponsored the team for five years, when the denominational school was closed.

Inability of a town the size of Durant to support the team was given as the reason for the shift to Oklahoma City and enrollment of the girls in the university there. The team, victorious in 72 successive games over a period of the past two years, is scheduled to appear in the "women's Olympics" in London in 1934, defending its "North American championship" won by defeating the Edmonton, Alberta, Grads.

VOTE AGAINST REPEAL!

WHAT PROHIBITION HAS DONE FOR THE UNITED STATES

When the 18th Amendment went into effect, with 69% of the states already dry, it made the other 31% dry, and here is what happened: (Facts gathered from U. S. Census and Court Reports).

Deaths from Alcoholism decreased 42%
Alcoholic Insanity decreased 66%
General Crime from Drink decreased 54%
Drunkenness decreased 70%
Deaths from Auto Wrecks (per 100,000 cars) decreased 50%
Drinking (as shown by liquor forces' own figures) decreased .. 77%

In the United States under legalized liquor there were 98 Keely Institutes, they have been reduced to 11 under Prohibition, a decrease of 90%.

There were 275 institutions in all for the treatment of alcoholic diseases. Decrease of drunkenness caused 207 of these to close.

Savings deposits multiplied three times since 1918.

Membership in building and loan associations increased from 4 millions to 11 millions since 1919.

The assets of these associations multiplied three and one-half times.

Working men now own stock in the companies for which they work. The number of stockholders in large corporations has increased 243% under prohibition.

Do You Know That

A Small minority of Americans, combined with foreign liquor interests, by a blatant game of bluff, by falsehood and trickery, have carried many of the states for repeal, with no other motive than that a few may be enriched through the folly and suffering of many.

ADAMS COUNTY AWAKE!

Do you want your children trained to drink? If not, get in line.

Shall the family income go for food and clothing, or shall it be spent for booze?

Do not say it is no use. No matter what other states have done, or what Pennsylvania as a whole may do, this ballot gives you your only chance to hold ADAMS COUNTY in the dry column. The kind of men, whether wet or dry, who seek nomination as representatives in our legislature, will be determined by this vote. These men, who are to be chosen next year, will make Pennsylvania's liquor laws, if the eighteenth amendment should be repealed. Would you want this done by the friends or by the foes of prohibition?

Be sure to vote. Be sure to vote "dry." Help to get all your friends and neighbors to vote, and to vote "dry." DO YOUR PART, so that whatever may come, you can have a clear conscience and a full measure of self-respect.

WHAT LIQUOR, Under Government Control HAS DONE FOR CANADA

(Facts shown by the Canadian Bureau of Statistics)

Deaths from Alcoholism increased 100%
General Crime increased 89%
Drunkenness increased 55%
Drunken Drivers increased 830%
Immoral Crimes increased 76%
Deaths from Auto Wrecks (per 100,000 cars) increased 42%

Wet Canada has, in proportion, three times as many automobile wrecks as dry United States.

OTHER PERTINENT FACTS

The soft drink business increased 307%, the ice cream business 281%, and milk consumption 26 gallons per person annually, since the 18th Amendment became effective.

Deaths from alcoholism in the wet states that do not co-operate in enforcing the law are 116% greater than in dry states that do co-operate in enforcement.

England has, in proportion, four times as many automobile wrecks as dry United States, and Germany six times as many.

Arrests for drunkenness decreased 63% in New York City under the 18th Amendment.

With two presidents in Gettysburg in recent years, each bringing tremendous crowds of people, there were no arrests for drunkenness, a situation vastly different from the days of old.

From an early Egyptian tomb: "His earthly tenement was shattered by beer and wine. And his spirit departed before it was called for."

Xenophon, 300 B. C.: "Temperance means, first, moderation in healthful indulgence, and secondly, abstinence from things dangerous, as the use of intoxicating wines."

Pliny, the Elder, A. D. 79: "There is nothing about which we put ourselves to more trouble than wine, as if nature had not given us the most salubrious drink with which all animals are satisfied."

Chaucer, 1340 A. D.: "Character and shame depart when wine comes in."

Shakespeare, A. D. 1600: "O thou invisible spirit of wine, if thou hast no name to be known by, let us call thee Devil."

Lincoln, A. D. 1842: "Liquor might have its defenders but no defense. Whether or not the world would be vastly benefited by a total and final banishment of some, if not all, intoxicating drinks, seems to me not an open question."

Gladstone, A. D. 1898: "The ravages of drink are greater than those of war, pestilence and famine combined."

Clemenceau, A. D. 1920: "It is definitely settled that alcohol is a poison: a poison destructive of human energy and, for this reason, of society as a whole."

Sir Wilfred Grenfell, A. D. 1928: "Alcohol has wrecked more lives, starved more children, and murdered more women than any other single factor."

Thomas A. Edison: "I still feel that prohibition is the greatest experiment yet made to benefit men."
(Taken from Forward, and reproduced in the Index)

REMEMBER!

You cannot repeal the effect of alcohol.

The liquor traffic cannot prosper without victims. Have you a boy or girl, a husband or brother, to give to this demon?

Money spent for booze cannot be spent for bread and other necessities of life.

The liquor traffic is always opposed to law, and never contributed to the health, happiness or prosperity of any community.

SUNDAY SPORTS

Do you know we are to have a special ballot to vote for or against baseball and football on Sunday? Will you help to preserve our holy day of rest and worship? Be sure to vote this ballot, and vote

NO ☒

The Ministerial Association of Adams County, at its last regular meeting, unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That as citizens and ministers we are opposed to the legalizing of Sunday sports.

RESOLVED, That we urge our members and all other citizens who value the blessings of the Holy Sabbath Day to vote against the proposed constitutional amendment permitting the same.

SOME MODERN OPINIONS OF BOOZE

Knute Rockne, a great football coach, demanded that the men on his teams abstain from alcoholic drinks both in and out of football seasons.

Suzanne Lenglen, the great tennis star, coming from the wine-drinking country of France, said: "I drink no wine or alcoholic drinks of any kind."

Connie Mack, whom everybody knows, said: "All the umpires together have not put as many players out of the game as old man booze."

"Hurry-up" Yost, the popular coach said: "I wouldn't waste time to train a boy who uses alcohol, even in moderation. He doesn't give himself a chance, and he jeopardizes his team."

Jane Addams, whom all the world knows, and who knows Chicago as well as any living person, says: "It was perhaps too much to hope that the 18th Amendment should be adequately enforced during the first decades, but in spite of the activities of the bootleggers, the Hull House neighborhood, which I imagine is typical of many others, has been enormously improved during the period of prohibition. It would be nothing short of a calamity to thousands of families if the Amendment is repealed and we are thrown back into the wretched conditions which formerly prevailed."

Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army, says: "This thing which prohibition debars has sold more homes, armed more villains, slain more children, snapped more wedding rings, dethroned more intellects, dishonored more womanhood and dug more graves than any other poison scourge which has ever swept the world."

VOTE AGAINST REPEAL!

WHAT PROHIBITION HAS DONE FOR THE UNITED STATES

When the 18th Amendment went into effect, with 69% of the states already dry, it made the other 31% dry, and here is what happened: (Facts gathered from U. S. Census and Court Reports).

Deaths from Alcoholism decreased 42%
Alcoholic Insanity decreased 66%
General Crime from Drink decreased 54%
Drunkenness decreased 70%
Deaths from Auto Wrecks (per 100,000 cars) decreased 50%
Drinking (as shown by liquor forces' own figures) decreased .. 77%

In the United States under legalized liquor there were 98 Keely Institutes, they have been reduced to 11 under Prohibition, a decrease of 90%.

There were 275 institutions in all for the treatment of alcoholic diseases. Decrease of drunkenness caused 207 of these to close.

Savings deposits multiplied three times since 1918.

Membership in building and loan associations increased from 4 millions to 11 millions since 1919.

The assets of these associations multiplied three and one-half times.

Working men now own stock in the companies for which they work. The number of stockholders in large corporations has increased 243% under prohibition.

Do You Know That

A Small minority of Americans, combined with foreign liquor interests, by a blatant game of bluff, by falsehood and trickery, have carried many of the states for repeal, with no other motive than that a few may be enriched through the folly and suffering of many.

ADAMS COUNTY AWAKE!

Do you want your children trained to drink? If not, get in line.

Shall the family income go for food and clothing, or shall it be spent for booze?

Do not say it is no use. No matter what other states have done, or what Pennsylvania as a whole may do, this ballot gives you your only chance to hold ADAMS COUNTY in the dry column. The kind of men, whether wet or dry, who seek nomination as representatives in our legislature, will be determined by this vote. These men, who are to be chosen next year, will make Pennsylvania's liquor laws, if the eighteenth amendment should be repealed. Would you want this done by the friends or by the foes of prohibition?

Be sure to vote. Be sure to vote "dry." Help to get all your friends and neighbors to vote, and to vote "dry." DO YOUR PART, so that whatever may come, you can have a clear conscience and a full measure of self-respect.

WHAT LIQUOR, Under Government Control HAS DONE FOR CANADA

(Facts shown by the Canadian Bureau of Statistics)

Deaths from Alcoholism increased 100%
General Crime increased 89%
Drunkenness increased 55%
Drunken Drivers increased 830%
Immoral Crimes increased 76%
Deaths from Auto Wrecks (per 100,000 cars) increased 42%

Wet Canada has, in proportion, three times as many automobile wrecks as dry United States.

The soft drink business increased 307%, the ice cream business 281%, and milk consumption 26 gallons per person annually, since the 18th Amendment became effective.

Deaths from alcoholism in the wet states that do not co-operate in enforcing the law are 116% greater than in dry states that do co-operate in enforcement.

England has, in proportion, four times as many automobile wrecks as dry United States, and Germany six times as many.

Arrests for drunkenness decreased 63% in New York City under the 18th Amendment.

With two presidents in Gettysburg in recent years, each bringing tremendous crowds of people, there were no arrests for drunkenness, a situation vastly different from the days of old.

From an early Egyptian tomb: "His earthly tenement was shattered by beer and wine. And his spirit departed before it was called for."

Xenophon, 300 B. C.: "Temperance means, first, moderation in healthful indulgence, and secondly, abstinence from things dangerous, as the use of intoxicating wines."

Pliny, the Elder, A. D. 79: "There is nothing about which we put ourselves to more trouble than wine, as if nature had not given us the most salubrious drink with which all animals are satisfied."

Chaucer, 1340 A. D.: "Character and shame depart when wine comes in."

Shakespeare, A. D. 1600: "O thou invisible spirit of wine, if thou hast no name to be known by, let us call thee Devil."

Lincoln, A. D. 1842: "Liquor might have its defenders but no defense. Whether or not the world would be vastly benefited by a total and final banishment of some, if not all, intoxicating drinks, seems to me not an open question."

Gladstone, A. D. 1898: "The ravages of drink are greater than those of war, pestilence and famine combined."

Clemenceau, A. D. 1920: "It is definitely settled that alcohol is a poison—a poison destructive of human energy and, for this reason, of society as a whole."

Sir Wilfred Grenfell, A. D. 1928: "Alcohol has wrecked more lives, starved more children, and murdered more women than any other single factor."

Thomas A. Edison: "I still feel that prohibition is the greatest experiment yet made to benefit men."

REMEMBER!

You cannot repeal the effect of alcohol.

The liquor traffic cannot prosper without victims. Have you a boy or girl, a husband or brother, to give to this demon?

Money spent for booze cannot be spent for bread and other necessities of life.

The liquor traffic is always opposed to law, and never contributed to the health, happiness or prosperity of any community.

Do you know we are to have a special ballot to vote for or against baseball and football on Sunday? Will you help to preserve our holy day of rest and worship? Be sure to vote this ballot, and vote

NO ☒

The Ministerial Association of Adams County, at its last regular meeting, unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That as citizens and ministers we are opposed to the legalizing of Sunday sports.

RESOLVED, That we urge our members and all other citizens who value the blessings of the Holy Sabbath Day to vote against the proposed constitutional amendment permitting the same.

SOME MODERN OPINIONS OF BOOZE

Knute Rockne, a great football coach, demanded that the men on his teams abstain from alcoholic drinks both in and out of football seasons.

Suzanne Lenglen, the great tennis star, coming from the wine-drinking country of France, said: "I drink no wine or alcoholic drinks of any kind."

Connie Mack, whom everybody knows, said: "All the umpires together have not put as many players out of the game as old man booze."

"Hurry-up" Yost, the popular coach said: "I wouldn't waste time to train a boy who uses alcohol, even in moderation. He doesn't give himself a chance, and he jeopardizes his team."

Jane Addams, whom all the world knows, and who knows Chicago as well as any living person, says: "It was perhaps too much to hope that the 18th Amendment should be adequately enforced during the first decades, but in spite of the activities of the bootleggers, the Hull House neighborhood, which I imagine is typical of many others, has been enormously improved during the period of prohibition. It would be nothing short of a calamity to thousands of families if the Amendment is repealed and we are thrown back into the wretched conditions which formerly prevailed."

Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army, says: "This thing which prohibition debars has sold more homes, armed more villains, slain more children, snapped more wedding rings, dethroned more intellects, dishonored more womanhood and dug more graves than any other poison scourge which has ever swept the world."

Negro With Glass
Eye Foils Police
Carlisle, Nov. 2.—Duping police by removing a glass eye, thereby causing them looking for a man with "two" eyes, to release him temporarily, D. J. Cleasanti, 35, Cooks'ville, Maryland, was later arrested and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Cleasanti, a negro, posed, it is alleged, as an Assyrian doctor with offices in Washington and Baltimore, and sold his special elixir to a local woman for $16.50.

He eluded the police as he alighted from a motorbus. Later they found him walking along the highway. In the police car the officers found they had a one-eyed man and released him. Still skeptical, they picked him up again, searched him and found his second eye, a glass one, in his pocket.

TWO MEN ACQUITTED OF ARMED ROBBERY
Miami, Fla., Nov. 2 (AP).—A jury Wednesday acquitted Charles Howard and James Maiden of armed robbery charges in connection with the hotel Anglers robbery last February. James Williams, a third defendant, also was acquitted of armed charges, but was convicted of a charge of being an accessory after the fact.

The trio, charged specifically with armed robbery, took the stand and denied connection with the hold-up, that occurred after a hotel clerk and a negro bellboy were bound and gagged by four bandits.

A fourth suspect, James Marci, has not been captured.

State Balance Shows Increase
Harrisburg, Nov. 2 (AP).—The commonwealth started another November with the balance in its operating funds $1,100,000 higher than last month.

The general fund, from which all current expenses are paid, showed an increase of $2,400,000 over October 1.

The motor license fund dropped from $9,223,850 to $7,890,000, while there were slight changes in the other operating funds.

The current aggregate of all operating funds is $16,830,819. Last month it was $15,791,337.

October receipts were $11,678,000 above those of September while expenditures increased about $8,800,000. Receipts last month were $27,482,123; payments, $28,294,751.

A decrease in the total of custodial and trust funds sent the treasury balance total of all active and inactive funds from $36,975,941 to $33,292,173.

The balances show a decrease from the figures of October 31, last year. The general fund decreased from $10,689,560; the motor fund from $11,126,889 and the treasury balance from $41,170,495.

Ask President To Buy Coal For Needy
Scranton, Nov. 2 (AP).—President Roosevelt will have presented direct to him next Thursday a plan to have the federal government purchase ten to fifteen million tons of anthracite for the needy.

If the plan is adopted, its sponsors say employment will be provided for at least 20,000 men in the mines for several months and will be a big help to the industry.

National representative Patrick J. Boland, who is in Washington today, notified Thomas Murphy, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Scranton Times that Mr. Roosevelt will meet a delegation from the hard coal region to discuss the plan.

Falls From Wagon; Fractures His Hip
David Lott, 72, Gettysburg R. 7, suffered a fracture of the hip at his farm, Wednesday evening at 5:45 o'clock, when a load of soy beans on which he was sitting upset, throwing him to the ground. Mr. Lott's son, John, was with him at the time. The Gettysburg ambulance brought the injured man to the Warner hospital.

Dead Woman Found In Burning Home
Rockport, Mass., Nov. 2 (AP).—Firemen broke into the burning home of Mrs. Augusta Johnson, 55, Wednesday, found her body lying across a bed. Police said she appeared to have been beaten to death.

Mrs. Johnson owned three houses and had paid the taxes on them Tuesday, so police believed that if robbery was the primary motive for the crime the murderer got little or nothing.

the number of fatal pedestrian accidents at night during the winter was more than twice the number during summer months.

Mr. Gable explained that the problem of pedestrian safety is being recognized not only in Pennsylvania but in a number of other states. "New York recently enacted a law requiring pedestrians to walk facing traffic," he said and other states have posted signs warning them to use the highway in this manner. Success of the New York law will be watched with a great deal of interest and it helps reduce the number of accidents a similar act will be introduced at the next regular session of the Pennsylvania legislature.

"People walking along highways should keep in mind that dark clothing reflects little light, and should make it as easy as possible for motorists to see them. Use of a flashlight, lantern, or the display of a piece of white cloth such as a handkerchief will make it easier for motorists to see them, and will tend to reduce accident hazards."

VILLA'S SON COMMITTED TO HOSPITAL FOR INSANE
Los Angeles, Nov. 2 (AP).—Pancho Augustin Villa, 21-year-old son of the late Mexican guerrilla general, was adjudged insane Wednesday and ordered Judge Thomas Gould superior him committed immediately to the state hospital at Norwalk.

Physicians reported the youth was suffering from dementia praecox. He was taken into custody last Monday on a complaint of his guardian, Henry Scidner.

Villa recently signed a contract to play in a motion picture depicting his father's career. Scidner said the youth refused to talk, went about nude and threatened to kill his mother, Assuncion.

WOUNDED MAN ADMITS KILLING

Frederick Police Say Suspect Confessed He Was Jealous.
Frederick, Nov. 2 (AP).—George F. Schultz, 63-year-old employee of the state health department, who according to Frederick county officers, has made a formal confession that he killed Mrs. Bessie C. Darling, has a "fair chance" to live, doctors said Wednesday.

At the Frederick hospital, where Schultz was taken after the shooting at the hotel which Mrs. Darling managed at Deerfield, Maryland, an operation was performed to remove the bullet from Schultz's kidney region Wednesday afternoon.

Jealous of Farmer
Officers said that in the statement which Schultz made in the presence of Sheriff Charles W. Crum and State's Attorney Walter E. Sinn he named as the man of whom he was jealous a farmer living near Deerfield. When questioned, however, the farmer insisted that he knew Mrs. Darling only "as a neighbor" and that Schultz had no reason to be jealous.

Schultz's statement was in line with that of Maize Willard, hotel maid, who said she saw the killing. Her evidence indicated, officers said, that Mrs. Darling had grown afraid of Schultz. She had a gun in her hand when he forced his way into the hotel and came to her bedroom door, the maid said. It was never fired, however, as Schultz shot almost as soon as he entered the room.

Arrangements were made for Mrs. Darling to be buried at Thurmont this afternoon.

F. AND M. STUDENTS OPPOSE OPENING DOOR TO WOMEN
Lancaster, Nov. 2.—Franklin and Marshall college students are opposed to admitting women to the institution, according to opinions expressed on questionnaires circulated by the student weekly.

Eighty college men voted against women being admitted to the school and sixty-two favored coeds. One student wrote on his ballot: "Women are a nuisance—in school."

DANCER'S TEAM CUT
Chicago, Nov. 2 (AP).—Sally Rand, of fan dance fame Wednesday won a reduction in her sentence on an indecent performance charge of ten days in the house of correction and a fine of $200.

Judge McGary previously had sentenced the dancer to a year in jail and fined her $200. Later the judge overruled a motion for a new trial but granted a motion for mitigation of the first sentence.

NEEDY GET $8,400,000
Tokio, Nov. 2 (AP).—What is believed to be the largest private benefaction in Japanese history, an $8,400,000 foundation for relieving distress among peasants, was announced today by the wealthy Mitsui banking family.

Scientific and industrial research and bequests to charity organizations were included.

Vernacular newspapers recalled that reactionary patriotic agitations in the last two years made the Mitsui house a target as a result of agrarian poverty and resentment against capitalists' profits.

Lindberghs Planning To Make Long Sojourn At French Riviera

Paris, Nov. 2 (AP).—Col Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh plan a long sojourn on the Riviera after completing a European survey for a prospective commercial trans-Atlantic air route.

Their bags were packed Wednesday in preparation for a hop to Amsterdam, where they intend to spend several days before flying to Spain and the Azores.

Snow and rain fell Wednesday on the route to the Netherlands and consequently the departure northward may be made today or Friday, if the weather permits.

The possibility that the Americans might take up residence in southern France has been rumored repeatedly since the middle of May. It was thought likely that they might return for a short stay in the United States before coming to the Mediterranean coast.

"We wanted to see Paris quietly on this visit," the colonel said Wednesday as he left his hotel for faraway calls at the air ministry. He refused, however, to comment on the plans, which were revealed Wednesday night through French sources.

The five days they have spent here have been so filled with business connected with the aerial survey, friends said, that Colonel Lindbergh has not seen any of the sights other than those he saw six years ago when he flew across the Atlantic.

The absence of crowds, however, during the current visit have enabled him to see those sights better.

The air ministry has supplied him with much technical information. Leading French aviators have consulted Colonel Lindbergh on projects and problems of their own and have received prompt opinions.

PEACE REIGNS IN FARMERS' WAR

Leaders Of Three Units Repudiate State President Who Pled For Peace.
(By Associated Press)
Peaceful picketing by Minnesota farmers was ordered for today by the farmer's holiday association of that state in connection with agriculture's efforts to win higher prices for farm products.

This development came while the governors of mid-western states were carrying the farm strike problem to President Roosevelt for a solution.

Strikers seized an interurban car at Watford, Wisconsin, and dumped 17,000 pounds of milk. At Plymouth, Wisconsin, the windows of a cheese factory were broken by a bomb.

Leaders of three association units repudiated their state president, Aronid Gilberts, by favoring continuation of the strike despite Gilbert's recent order for a temporary suspension.

At Des Moines, Milo Reno, president of the national farmers' holiday association, said the strike was in "inactive suspension," pending the conference of governors with Mr. Roosevelt.

Bar Hunters From Hospital Grounds

The grounds of the Danville state hospital for mental diseases will be preserved as a game refuge, according to announcement by the board of trustees.

For several years hunting has been forbidden on the 600 or more acres of farm and woodland surrounding the hospital, in an effort to preserve game life and create a reservoir of wild life that will in time contribute to the stocking of surrounding grounds.

An abundance of small game, including rabbits, squirrels, quail and ringnecked pheasants flourish on the grounds. Some trespassing and illegal hunting has been discovered and members of the board of trustees announced that prosecutions would follow any further violations.

Football Dangers Jeered By Tackle

University, Ala. (AP).—Football may have its dangers for some, but Charlie Marr, veteran Alabama tackle, regards it as "pink tea" compared with what other sports have done to him.

Once he was playing baseball and a hot grounder took a bad bounce, fracturing his skull.

Two years ago he dived into a swimming pool and dislocated several vertebrae in his neck. He wore a brace for months.

The worst thing several years of football has done was to leave a slight bruise on his leg.

Indiana Refs Get No Votes In Ring

Indianapolis (AP).—A three-judge system of scoring boxing contests, with the referee having nothing to do with awarding a decision is being tried in Indiana.

Al G. Feehey, former Notre Dame football star, and the one-man athletic commission of the state, believes the referee has too much to do in the ring to know how things are going.

With that in mind, he decided to appoint three judges to give the decision, based on the ten-points to the round system.

Indiana is believed to be the only state in the union using the three-judge plan.

CLEAR DALE

Clear Dale—A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lemmon, near this place, last Friday evening, in honor of Mr. Lemmon, who celebrated his fifty-third birthday anniversary. Refreshments were served. A cake with fifty-three candles formed the centerpiece of the table.

FATHER SEEKS TWO CHILDREN

Court Extends Hearing To Permit New Counsel To Call Witnesses.

Judge Ray P. Sherwood, of York county court, has continued hearing on a petition for change in an order of habeas corpus proceedings in which Joseph Matthews asked for custody of his two minor children until next Monday. This was done to give J. Edgar Small, counsel for Mrs. Matthews, opportunity to secure witnesses.

This case was before the York court more than three years ago when Mrs. Matthews, who lives apart from her husband, now in Gettysburg, was given custody of the children. Several months ago Matthews started habeas corpus proceedings in Gettysburg, but Judge McPherson dismissed the writ on the ground that the matter was out of his jurisdiction since an order had been made by the York county court.

In the petition by the father for a change in the order he alleged that the mother is not a fit person to care for the children. The court Monday indicated that on the testimony heard the children would be given to the father. Since Mr. Small was retained only a short time before the hearing he asked that he be given opportunity to summon witnesses to show that the father is no more fit to rear the children than the mother. The judge granted his request.

Retards Aid In Fish Protection

Practical stream improvement is demonstrated at a project on the Lackawanna river at the fish commission's Pleasant Mount hatchery, in Wayne county. Dams and log retards have been constructed in the stream at points where it passes through the fish commission's property. Each pool, created by swift falls, riffles, and eddies, harbors a maximum number of trout ranging in length from 6 to 14 inches.

At several of the log retards, small waterfalls have fashioned natural pools highly adaptable for trout from the standpoint of water aeration and protection. Sportsmen interested in stream improvement who visit the hatchery this summer should find much of interest in this improvement project, officials said.

Girls' Cage Team Shifts Home Site

Oklahoma City (AP).—They aren't going to be the Durant Cardinals any more.

Effective November 6, Coach S. F. Babb announced, the two-time women's national A. U. basketball champions will transfer their allegiance from Southeastern Oklahoma Teachers college at Durant to Oklahoma City university.

Earlier this year they transferred from Oklahoma Presbyterian college at Durant, which had sponsored the team for five years, when the denominational school was closed.

Inability of a town the size of Durant to support the team was given as the reason for the shift to Oklahoma City and enrollment of the girls in the university there. The team, victorious in 72 successive games over a period of the past two years, is scheduled to appear in the "women's Olympics" in London in 1934, defending its "North American championship" won by defeating the Edmonton, Alberta, Grads.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Land Purchase for Development:
Hon. Donald P. McPherson and Martin Winter have purchased the Louis Weyandt tract of land containing 35 acres and fronting on the Fairfield road just west of Seminary ridge and joining Professor J.
Louis Sowers home. They have also bought the Philip Hennigh tract of land containing 24 acres just across the road from the Weyandt tract extending to and fronting on the Springs hotel road.

It is the intention of the purchasers to develop these tracts of land by opening two streets through same from the Springs hotel road southward across the Fairfield road on the south limits of the Weygant tract for the present, with possible further extension in the future. These streets will be three-fifths of a mile in length each.

Building lots will be offered for sale at once on both sides of the Fairfield road. These tracts are in Cumberland township near the borough line and arrangements will be made for borrough water and light.

Wedding Bells: Menchey-Stein-
our, Miss Emma G. Steinoor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Steinoor, and Lewis Menchey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Menchey, were married in their newly-furnished home on South Washington street Saturday evening by Rev. J.
B. Baker.

Miller-Bailey: Allen Miller, of Waynesboro, and Miss Cecelia Bailey, of Gettysburg, were married in York Saturday morning by Alderman W. F. Owen, at his office.

No More Hazing: At a mass meeting of the students held Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to stop all kinds of hazing in Gettysburg college. The meeting was called at the instance of Dr. Granville, and he and several other members of the faculty made talks, in which they discouraged the practice of hazing the freshmen and it was asked that a vote be taken. For some time the students were reluctant about voting this pastime

With Us Daily

For thus saith the Lord; David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel;

Neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to kindle meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

And the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, saying,

Thus saith the Lord; if ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night,
and that there should not be
day and night in their season;

Then may also my covenant
be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers.

As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

Moreover, the word of the Lord
came to Jeremiah, saying,

Considered thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the Lord hath chosen, he hath even cast them off; thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

Thus saith the Lord; if my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth;

Then will I cast away the seed of Jacob, and David my servant,
so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; for I will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

down, but finally it received almost a unanimous vote.

Hallow'en Parade: With the tooling of horns and the presence of fantastically dressed individuals and decorated vehicles of all description, the second annual mummies'
parade was held on Friday evening.
Preceding the regularly scheduled parade was a parade of automobiles boosting the "Linking Highway." Forty-three machines were in this line.

The parade was held by the Gettysburg band, with Benjamin
Carter in the lead swinging a pitch fork for a baton. In the division of walking mummies a pair which attracted attention was Earl Den-trick and David Myers, the former dressed in a swallow-tail coat and duck trousers, piccadilly collar and very loud cravat, with a sporty looking beard to lend to the style of his costume and the latter clad in a woman's costume. This pair was awarded one of the prizes of three dollars. William Squire won the prize of $2.00 for the best child's disguise.

Mrs. Frank Schriver, masquerading in a dress having a hoop skirt was given the prize of $3.00 for the best lady's costume.

Following were the riders and floats and decorated wagons. Some of the most attractive of these entries were, a wagon owned by Levi Diehl and filled with young ladies dressed in devil's costumes. The wagon bore the sign "Devil's Den;" a sled trimmed to represent Uncle Tom's cabin, a wagon containing a cage, in which were two boys dressed as monkeys, a large prairie schooner of the 49 type, carrying a settler and his family, the truck of Oyster and Spangler filled with persons in white costumes of ghosts.

The Stanley steamer of C. W.
Stoner was trimmed with white cloth, on which daisies were painted, the center being cut out so that a head could protrude. Out of these openings were the faces of little girls.

Before the parade Japanese lanterns were passed out to the mummers at the office of the gas company. At the conclusion of the parade the band gave a short concert in Center Square.

The mummies' parade is the direct result of the efforts of Mr. Allen B. Plank and to him belongs the credit of giving Gettysburg this unique way of celebrating Halloween, much to the satisfaction of everyone, even the children, who heretofore found pleasure in the use of paddies and the older boys who spent the evening in dislodging front steps which were loose, and hauling wagons to the creek for an unexpected washing. Now the evening's entertainment has proved equally pleasant for both young and old.

And deeper than that the sin itself
they'd little time to pry.

All history tells of prison cells and

Outrageous Fortune

By Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Jim Randal finds, in a secret cache at Hale Place, his boyhood home, the Van Berg emeralds. Evidence points to the fact that he has stolen them, yet he has no memory either of theft, or of anything else that happened in the last six weeks. The emeralds are snatched from his hand, he grapples with the intruder, chases him to the station, and loses him. Now he has gone to Lexington to try to pick up the trail. He meets Min, sister-in-law of Nesta Riddell. Nesta not only says he stole the emeralds, but that he is her husband. Min tells Jim she has not known him long.

Chapter 40
IMPORTANT NEWS
"We're not old friends?"
"Oh, no," said Min again.
"Min—when did you meet me first?"
He got a round blue stare
"Oh, you know?"
"I'm afraid I don't. Shall we turn and walk back again? I don't suppose anyone knows us, but you never can tell. And now—when did you meet me first?"
"Oh, but you do know that—you can't have forgotten so soon!"
"So soon?"
"It's not a week," said Min. You can't have forgotten!"
Jim felt a rising excitement
"Not a week? Do you mean you never saw me before Nesta brought me from that hospital at Elston?"
"No, never." She looked up at him with an air of childlike candor
"Then it was Nesta who told you I was Jim Riddell?"
"But she couldn't have made a mistake. She must have known—her own husband—"
Jim asked abruptly.
"Haden Tom met me either?"
"Oh no."
So that was that. Jim felt as if a heavy paving-stone had been lifted off his back. If it was only Nesta who identified him as Jim Riddell, he was prepared to lay very long odds that he wasn't Jim Riddell.
They reached the end of the colonnade once more
"I mustn't keep you," he said. Min blushed again.
"Oh, won't you please come back with me and just see her? You don't know what mayn't come of it if you go on staying away. Won't you please come back?"
That very delicate extra sense which sometimes warns and sometimes discurs things of which we have no evidence, became suddenly, active in Jim. Instead of saying good bye he turned and began to walk slowly back along the colonnade.
Min, flushed and encouraged, moved beside him with small quick steps. Married people oughtn't to live separate, mother always said. She found she was saying this out loud.
"Mother always says—"
"Well?" said Jim. That odd unclassified sense was alert and waiting.
"I don't hardly like to."
"Oh come—you were going to tell me what your mother says. I'm sure you can manage that."
"Mother always says married folk should stick close, because if they don't—"
"Yes—if they don't?"
"There's room for a third between them."
Jim got a hunch
"My dear Min, are you trying to warn me?"
They had reached the corner again. Min stopped and faced him, nodding.
"You are!"
She nodded again solemnly.
"All right, we'd better take another turn, and you shall tell me all about it. Who's the man?"
"I don't know if I ought."
Jim didn't know either. He only knew that he was bound to get it out of her if he could. He said gravely.
"You've got to tell me."
She twisted the handles of her basket.
"I've never been a mischief-maker."
"You won't be making mischief?"
She gave him a frightened glance curiously mingled with virtuous pride.
"Throwing stones up at her window and long past midnight!" She said.
"A man threw stones up at Nesta's window last night?"
Min gulped and nodded again.
"I heard the pebbles against the glass, and I saw him under the other window—Nesta's. And he said her name—just Nesta, not Mrs. Riddell at all. And then he said, 'Come down!'"
"I see. Then Nesta went out?"
Min nodded.
"I hoped it was you, and that you were making it up."
"When did you find out that it wasn't me?"
"When she came back. She opened the door and came in. It was beginning to get light, and I could see enough to know that it wasn't you."
"What happened?" said Jim.
"She went to the gate again, and gave him something."
"She gave him something? You're sure it wasn't the other way about?"
"I think it was money," said Min.
He was wondering whether it was the Van Berg emeralds that had changed hands over the gate of Hapnot at three o'clock in the morning. For this was what he thought his hunch had done for him—he thought it had brought him hot on the track of his burglar.
The train he had missed and last night's burglar had caught, would have reached Lexington in very nice time to allow of Nesta being serenaded with a handful of pebbles.

But in that case the man who had taken the emeralds must have known exactly what it was that he had snatched in the Blue Room. And he hadn't come there blind. He had come there to get the emeralds.
"You heard something?"
Min nodded.
"Nesta said, 'It's all I've got'—and something about keeping money in the house."
"Is that all you heard?"
She shook her head.
"No—he said—at least he said a lot more than what I'm telling you—but all mumbly like as if he'd got something in his mouth."
Jim restrained himself.
"What did he say?"
"He said, 'Don't be late,'" said Min with a gasp.
Don't be late. And he spoke as if he had something in his mouth. Perhaps it was a gap in his upper jaw—perhaps it wasn't Jim's head whirled with possibilities.
Anything more? he asked.
"He went off and she came in." He got no more out of her than that.
At the lower end of the colonnade they parted.
He crossed the square and went into the library.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP

FATALLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT
Chambersburg—Struck by an automobile driven by Charles Magill, negro, of 334 West Loudon street as she crossed Lincoln Way West about 10 o'clock Monday night, Mrs. Eliza Eckert Shea, 53, of Roxbury, Massachusetts, a suburb of Boston, was fatally hurt Monday evening and died a half hour later in the Chambersburg hospital.
IMPROVEMENT FOR HIGHWAY FAVORED
Chambersburg—The county commissioners Monday evening passed a resolution authorizing the reconstruction of the New Franklin road between Chambersburg and White Church the work to be financed out of funds appropriated by the federal government. The only expense incurred by the county is in getting rights-of-way, of which they are none. Nearly all of these have been obtained.

COMMUNITY FUND NEARS GOAL
Waynesboro—Reports Monday night brought the community chest fund up to $25,076.92, less than $1,000 off the goal originally set. This feat was accomplished with the high average of 2,912 pledges.
CUMBERLAND COUNTY
PARADE MARCHER DROPS DEAD
Shippensburg—Wearing the garb of a clown, Bruce Hoch, 35, fell to the street, fatally stricken, as he capered in the Halloween parade here Tuesday night. He died in the Shippensburg ambulance on the way to the Chambersburg hospital. He had suffered a heart attack.
BANK OFFICERS ARE REELECTED
Carlisle—Directors of the First Bank and Trust company were re-elected Tuesday at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the institution. The officers of the bank were also re-elected at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday afternoon.
YORK COUNTY
INJURED IN FALL FROM AUTOMOBILE
York—Falling from a rear bumper of an automobile on which he was seated when the driver started, Charles E. Simon, eleven years old, 631 Ridge avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Simon, struck his head on the street, and sustained a concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull. He is a patient at the York hospital.

PARTOLS FORMED IN SAFETY CAMPAIGN
Hanover—A safety campaign to educate motorists, children and adults in the basic principles for self preservation from automobile accidents was launched Monday evening at a meeting of the general committee appointed by the school board at a recent meeting.
FREDERICK COUNTY
FOUR FRUSTRATED STAGING HOLDUP
Frederick—Four would-be desperadoes who staged a fruitless hold-up late Monday night were in jail Tuesday after a four-hour investigation by county, state and city officers. Three of the group the officers said, admitted taking part in the affair and implicated a fourth.
Shots were exchanged as the youths entered the lunch room of Albert Dixon, Furnace Ford, about 10:30 o'clock Monday night. Dixon, an elderly man fired first and sent the boys running from his store, but one of them turned to fire on the way out. Neither shot took effect.

LEG BROKEN WHEN STRUCK BY CAR
Frederick—Ernest Rice, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pearson Rice, of near Lewistown sustained a fractured leg when struck by an oil truck Tuesday at noon while returning from school at Lewistown.
WASHINGTON COUNTY
REPORT MORE BUILDING PERMITS
Hagerstown—Twelve permits for building costing $2,245 were issued here during October, the report of City Engineer Samuel Greenawald shows. For the corresponding month of 1932 the permits totaled only nine and the estimated value was $1,355.

ALL PROVE NOXZEMA IS TODAY'S "MIRACLE CREAM"

Read how this Famous Medicated Cream has brought new beauty and skin comfort to millions of people. Dozens of wonderful benefits

NOXZEMA CREAM—there's never been anything like it! Doctors prescribe it for skin troubles. Beauty parlors feature it as a wonderful skin corrective. The finest barber shops, like the famous Terminal Barber Shops and the U. S. Senate Barber Shop use it for shaving. First Aid Hospitals depend on it exclusively for sunburn.

Not advertising claims, not promises, but the everyday use of Noxzema by all these authorities, should convince you that Noxzema is truly today's "Miracle Cream".

New beauty quickly

If you are a woman, you'll use Noxzema because it brings new beauty—by clearing up skin faults—large pores, blackheads, oiliness, pimples or scabiness, and by softening and refining the texture of your skin.

And like millions of other women you will find that rough, red, irritated hands become soft and smooth overnight . . . with this famous medicated cream. Use it for baby, too. Ends chafing, diaper rash and chapping quickly.

Amazing smooth shaves

Any man with tender, irritated skin—or who suffers from "razor rash"—will be amazed at the smooth, painless shave Noxzema gives him. Rub in as a base for lather. Or spread on as a brushless shave. Either way, you end "razor rash" or irritation. Remember, Noxzema is used by every barber in the gigantic Terminal Barber Shops!

Dozens of home uses

You'll find countless uses for Noxzema. It stops the pain and helps heal burns and scalds. Ends itching irritations. No wonder millions use it and they couldn't get along without it! Ten million jars are sold every year!

75¢ jar for 49¢

Outrageous Fortune

By Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Jim Randall finds, in a secret cache at Hale Place, his boyhood home, the Van Berg emeralds. Evidence points to the fact that he has stolen them, yet he has no memory either of theft, or of anything else that happened in the last six weeks. The emeralds are snatched from his hand; he grapples with the intruder, chases him to the station, and loses him. Now he has gone to Ledington to try to pick up the trail. He meets Min, sister-in-law of Nesta Riddell. Nesta not only says she stole the emeralds, but that he is her husband. Min tells Jim she has not known him long.

Chapter 40

"We're not old friends?"
"Oh, no," said Min again.
"Min—when did you meet me first?"
He got a round blue stare.
"Oh, you know."
"Oh, but you do know that—you can't have forgotten so soon!"
"So soon?"
"It's not a week," said Min. "You can't have forgotten!"
Jim felt a rising excitement.
"Not a week? Do you mean you never saw me before Nesta brought me from that hospital at Elston?"
"No, never." She looked up at him with an air of childlike candor.
"Then it was Nesta who told you I was Jim Riddell?"
"But she couldn't have made a mistake. She must have known—her own husband—"

Jim asked abruptly.
"Haden't Tom met me either?"
"Oh no."
So that was that. Jim felt as if a heavy paving-stone had been lifted off his back. If it was only Nesta who identified him as Jim Riddell, he was prepared to lay very long odds that he wasn't Jim Riddell.

They reached the end of the colonnade once more.
"I mustn't keep you," he said.
Min blushed again.
"Oh, won't you please come back with me and just see her? You don't know what mayn't come of it if you go on staying away. Won't you please come back?"

That very delicate extra sense which sometimes warns, and sometimes discerns things of which we have no evidence, became suddenly active in Jim. Instead of saying good bye he turned and began to walk slowly back along the colonnade.

Min, flushed and encouraged, moved beside him with small quick steps. Married people oughtn't to live separate, mother always said. . . . She found she was saying this out loud.

"Mother always says—"
"Well?" said Jim. That odd unclassified sense was alert and waiting.

"I don't hardly like to."
"Mother always says married folk should stick close, because if they don't—"

"Yes—if they don't."
"There's room for a third between them."
Jim got a hunch.

"My dear Min, are you trying to warn me?"
They had reached the corner again. Min stopped and faced him, nodding.

"You are!"
She nodded again solemnly.
"All right, we'd better take another turn and you shall tell me all about it. Who's the man?"

"I don't know if I ought."
Jim didn't know either. He only knew that he was bound to get it out of her if he could. He said gravely.

"You've got to tell me."
She twisted the handles of her basket.
"I've never been a mischief-maker."
"You won't be making mischief."
She gave him a frightened glance curiously mingled with virtuous pride.

"Throwing stones up at her window, and long past midnight!" She said.
"A man threw stones up at Nesta's window last night!"
Min gulped and nodded again.

"I heard the pebbles against the glass, and I saw him under the other window—Nesta's. And he said her name—just Nesta, not Mrs. Riddell at all. And then he said, 'Come down.'"
"I see. Then Nesta went out?"
Min nodded.

"I hoped it was you, and that you were making it up."
"When did you find out that it wasn't me?"
"When she came back. She opened the door and came in. It was beginning to get light, and I could see enough to know that it wasn't you."
"What happened?" said Jim.

"She went to the gate again, and gave him something."
"She gave him something? You're sure it wasn't the other way about?"
"I think it was money," said Min.

He was wondering whether it was the Van Berg emeralds that had changed hands over the gate of Haplocot at three o'clock in the morning. For this was what he thought his hunch had done for him—he thought it had brought him hot on the track of his burglar.

But in that case the man who had taken the emeralds must have known exactly what it was that he had snatched in the Blue Room. And he hadn't come there blind. He had come there to get the emeralds.

"You heard something?"
Min nodded.
"Nesta said, 'It's all I've got'—and something about keeping money in the house."

"Is that all you heard?"
She shook her head.
"No—he said—at least he said a lot more than what I'm telling you—but all mumbly like as if he'd got something in his mouth."

Jim restrained himself.
"What did he say?"
"He said, 'Don't be late,'" said Min with a gasp.

"Don't be late. . . . And he spoke as if he had something in his mouth. Perhaps it was a gap in his upper jaw—perhaps it wasn't. Jim's head whirled with possibilities.

"Anything more?" he asked.
"He went off, and she came in." He got no more out of her than that.

At the lower end of the colonnade they parted.
He crossed the square and went into the library.

News From Neighboring Counties

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP

FATALLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT
Chambersburg—Struck by an automobile driven by Charles Magill, negro, of 334 West Loudon street as she crossed Lincoln Way West about 8:30 a. m., Mrs. Eliza Eckert Shea, 53, of Roxbury, Massachusetts, a suburb of Boston, was fatally hurt Monday evening and died a half hour later in the Chambersburg hospital.

IMPROVEMENT FOR HIGHWAY FAVORED
Chambersburg—The county commissioners Monday evening passed a resolution authorizing the reconstruction of the New Franklin road between Chambersburg and White Church, the work to be financed out of funds appropriated by the federal government. The only expense incurred by the county is in getting rights-of-way, of which there are nine. Nearly all of these have been obtained.

COMMUNITY FUND NEARS GOAL
Waynesboro—Reports Monday night brought the community chest fund up to $25,076.92, less than $1,000 off the goal originally set. This feat was accomplished with the high average of 2,912 pledges.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY DROPS DEAD
Shippensburg—Wearing the garb of a clown, Bruce Hoch, 35, fell to the street, fatally stricken, as he capered in the Halloween parade here Tuesday night. He died in the Shippensburg ambulance on the way to the Chambersburg hospital. He had suffered a heart attack.

BANK OFFICERS ARE REELECTED
Carlisle—Directors of the First Bank and Trust company were re-elected Tuesday at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the institution. The officers of the bank were also re-elected at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday afternoon.

YORK COUNTY INJURED IN FALL FROM AUTOMOBILE
York—Falling from a rear bumper of an automobile on which he was seated when the driver started, Charles E. Simon, eleven years old, 631 Ridge avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Simon, struck his head on the street, and sustained a concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull. He is a patient at the York hospital.

PARTOLS FORMED IN SAFETY CAMPAIGN
Hanover—A safety campaign to educate motorists, children and adults in the basic principles for self preservation from automobile accidents was launched Monday evening at a meeting of the general committee appointed by the school board at a recent meeting.

WASHINGTON COUNTY REPORT MORE BUILDING PERMITS
Hagerstown—Twelve permits for building costing $2,245 were issued here during October, the report of City Engineer Samuel Greenawald shows. For the corresponding month of 1932 the permits totaled only nine and the estimated value was $1,355.

THE SWEETLAND

"I want my husband to admire my skin"
A WIFE never forgets that a clear skin is irresistible and that some other woman might prove more attractive.
How can she have a clear skin, too?
There is one way which many have found efficient . . . by restoring deficient red-cells and hemo-glo-bin (skin and tissue purifier) to the blood.
The right amount of hemo-glo-bin in the blood makes a vast difference in the way you feel and look.
S.S.S. Tonic has the special property of increasing the red-cells and restoring deficient hemo-glo-bin to the blood.
Tens of thousands yearly take a course of S.S.S. to pep up a lagging appetite, regain old-time vigor, restore color to the skin and to build up resistance to infectious diseases, pimples and boils.
Try S.S.S. yourself. You will be happy with the beneficial results obtained. At all drug stores. The larger size is more economical. © The S.S.S. Co.

Know Only One Way

You have heard it said, bend the sapling one way and that's the way the tree will grow. Bring up a boy one way and that will be the man. That is true of business methods.

I was born in a store, or to be exact, under the same roof. My father died when I was eight weeks old and my mother took up his business and carried on. She was known as the woman having the largest store in the world built, owned and controlled by a woman. She knew only one rule: Buy goods just as cheaply as possible and sell them the same way. Quick sales, small profits. Buy a bargain, sell a bargain. Spot cash. She planned, worked, thought, lived in the interest of only one person—that was the customer. If she outstripped all other merchants of her day in that community, it was because she saved money for her customers and served them better than others. She ran her own business in her own way for the benefit of her customers.
Of course, that was before the Government ran our business, or told us what was good business and what was bad business.
So it is no credit to me that I grew up as a sapling to a tree, or a boy to a man, using the very same business methods that I was taught, bent and trained and the "therefore" of it, after forty years, is that today we will not advance the prices until January 1st, 1934, which means saving to every customer of from 25c. to $3.00 on a pair of shoes.

LET'S GO! CLIMBING OUT OF "Depression Valley" may be more difficult than sliding down into it, but it is infinitely less painful. The downward slide was no slick, glassy toboggan; it was rough and rocky and many wore out the seats of their pants en route to the bottom. The correction of depression has put strong patches on the pants of Mr. Business Man, so he can now strut Main street in confidence. No more sneaking up alleys in the dark. We should make our homes more beautiful than ever with flowers. Bulbs planted any time before ground freezes will make your homes beautiful as soon as winter is over. We have genuine Holland bulbs: hyacinths, narcissus, scillas, chionodoxa, snowdrops, jonquils, tulips, earwin, breeder, Rembrandt, parrot and cottage; paperwhite narcissus, for growing in water. Also Presies, fishtail, Machiva, Weikira. Plums; Sprengeri ferns; Sansevieria; novelty Japanese pottery planted with dwarf ferns; Agaves; rubber plants; cactus (seven varieties); small Hemlock trees for winter porch boxes. Saturday market. George Barbehenn, Orrtanna.

THE LITTLE BOY WONDER—Charles Shaffer, Jr., 12 years old, from York, Pa., will preach at Hershey's park, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights, November 1, 3, and 4.

WILL PAY HIGHEST CASH prices for raw furs and hides. Morris Gittlin. Telephone 28-X.

PLAYER PIANO. USED LESS than one year. Will transfer lease for quick sale. Terms if desired. For information write A. D. Mack, Department of Accounts, P. A. North company, 1306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Spangler and Miss Polly Ward, of Washington, D. C., spent the weekend with Mrs. Mary Spangler.

Mrs. Bertha H. Ellis, of Boston, and Mrs. Oliver Shultz, of Hanover, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hilary R. Kennedy, Sunday.

A. P. Myers was on a fishing trip last Thursday.

The adult group of the local Y. W. C. A. entertained the Business Girls' club at a Halloween party on Tuesday evening at Hendricks' hall. Weird Halloween games and stunts were the diversions of the evening. The hall was decorated with autumn leaves, corn fodder and jack-o'-lanterns. Refreshments suitable to the season were served to the forty-five members and guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Miller and two sons, of Trenton, New Jersey, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Weidner.

Miss Catherine Boyer entertained thirty of her young friends at a Halloween party last Wednesday evening.

The Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Harlacher attended the district meeting of the Brethren church held at Shady grove, near Chambersburg, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hogue and sons, Samuel and George, visited relatives in Camp Hill, Sunday.

Mrs. Maude Wiernam Kennedy spent Monday in Chambersburg.

A number of persons from here attended the Halloween barn dance at the Tipton barn, Marsh Creek Heights, last Thursday evening, given by the young republicans of Adams county.

Mrs. Paul Christofaro and Mrs. Rene Tanger visited Miss Lois Rhodes, at the Warner hospital, Gettysburg, Tuesday. Miss Rhodes is slightly improved.

The University of Iowa library has passed the half-million mark in circulation for three successive years.
